

George Stoyanov
Partner, Transformation Advisory

george.stoyanov@ae.gt.com

George has over 18 years of professional experience within the areas of advisory, previously working for EY, PwC and Arthur Andersen. He has extensive experience in technology advisory, corporate governance, risk management and internal audit, and has serviced the financial services industry, including banks, regulators, private equity and insurance companies, in addition to clients in the real estate, telecoms, and oil and gas sectors.

He has managed the implementation set-up and training for corporate governance at major banking clients and the association of investment companies, in addition to internal audit management systems implementation and trainings across various industries and clients.

He has also performed the review and update of insurance company organisational structure.

George has developed policies, procedures, delegation-of-authority matrices and organisational structures, including operating model review for major private equity firms. In addition, he performed finance benchmarking and provided improvement solutions for a major petrochemical company.

George is passionate about advancing education standards and adding value through social entrepreneurship, and in his spare time works with People to People International to foster cross-cultural understanding and engage a new generation of globally minded citizens.

#GTInvestInYou

Area of Expertise

Business Risk
Services

Business Risk
Services

Business Risk
Services

Business Risk
Services

Education

- BSc in International Business Management, University of Maryland
- BSc in Psychology, University of Maryland
- Certified Internal Auditor (CIA)